Richard,

The limited time will not allow for a systematic 'overall review and integration' of the contributions. If reviewers become aware of issues such as the one you raised, I hope they alert their colleagues of those. I am sure you will be one of those who will help to get the best possible result.

Thanks,
Roger

Morning; With the deadline rapidly approaching for the submission of the various sections of these reports , I was wondering when there will be a higher level of review and integration? I ask this question, maybe unnecessarily, since I believe that some of the gaps being identified are or have been addressed and the writer may not be fully aware of the work done or ongoing..
